In 2020, the Journal of Economic Literature published 21 manuscripts in our Articles section: 11 papers, 6 review essays, and 4 symposium contributions. This represents a decrease of one manuscript compared to 2019, but the overall page count for the Articles section actually increased in 2020. The symposium contributions consisted of two manuscripts each in the March and June issues: March’s symposium touched on the content of economics 101 classes and textbooks, and the June symposium discussed publishing in economics. We printed 13 regular book reviews and included 836 book abstracts in the Annotated Listing of New Books in 2020, and we listed 29 pages of PhD dissertations in the December 2020 issue. Table 1 shows the number of pages published each year, by section, from 1980–2020.

Editorial Board

The board of editors, as has always been the case, plays an essential role in the journal, both by reviewing papers under consideration and also by suggesting potential topics and authors for future papers. The terms of appointment for 6 members of the board expired as of December 31, 2020. Four of those board members—Anna Aizer, Martha J. Bailey, Veronica Guerrieri, and John Hatfield—have completed second terms on the JEL editorial board; I thank them for their service. The AEA Advisory Committee for Editorial Appointments has approved second terms for board members Beatrice Cherrier and Lisa D. Cook.

Outside referees play an essential role in ensuring that the papers published in the JEL meet the highest professional standards for quality of content and exposition. I am happy to acknowledge and thank those who have taken the time and effort to submit reports this past year. Their names are listed below.

*In 1987, the Journal of Economic Literature took over from the American Economic Review the responsibility of publishing the list of Doctoral Dissertations in Economics. The list appears in the December issue each year and is added to “Current Periodicals,” which also includes the Contents of Current Periodicals, the Subject Index of Articles in Current Periodicals, and Selected Abstracts through 1999. In 2000, the journal article indexes were dropped from the printed version of the JEL.

2010 was the final year that the General Index was compiled and printed.
